The Study

2016 - 2017

3233 The Boulevard
Westmount, Québec

HEAD OF SCHOOL

Nancy Lewis Sweer

The Class of 2017 is uniquely positioned as the first graduating class in a fully private, non-subsidized school, a truly historic time for The Study. What has this meant to you, as a graduating class?

Our new-found independence has allowed us to enhance your global experience within a diverse environment. You are known as a group with great respect for each other. As a commonality, you are in the same year, however, you show strengths in a variety of fields. Some of you have a passion for innovation, for athletics, or of academics and the arts, and some of you have blossomed as leaders, philanthropists and humanitarians.

As the Class of 2017, you have taken advantage of the many opportunities afforded to you both in and around the school day. This has become clear from your participation in the Arts, Sciences, Model UN, Leadership Conferences, and Athletic teams. Many of you participated in the community service trip to our sister school in Diria, Nicaragua, and many continue to volunteer and coach outside of school.

You are also known, as a group, for your good sense of humour. You have developed an appreciation for each other and do not take yourselves too seriously to lose connection or friendship.

It is my fondest wish that you use these wonderful attributes as you pave your way through your next educational experience.

I hope that you will visit us in the near future, as part of our Study family, as welcome Alumnae.

Warmly,
Mrs. Nancy Sweer, Head of School

DEPUTY HEAD OF SCHOOL

Antonia Zannis

The 2016-2017 school year has flown by – filled with so many exciting opportunities for all our students – from kindergarten students writing their first books, to students in grade 2 participating in their first robotics tournament to wonderful classroom activities that included the Grade 10 St. Henri Bonheur d'occasion project. Everything that happens at The Study, both inside and outside the classroom, serves to provide all of you with experiences that will help you to navigate your future with strength and confidence to ensure that Study girls become the Great Women that the world needs. We are so proud of you all – for all your hard work, for all the new things that you learned and the risks you took in learning them. May each year be as enriching as the last and to the graduates, please do not forget to keep us updated as you navigate the post-secondary world!

HEAD OF SENIOR SCHOOL

Patricia Briand

A yearbook is a book of memories. The exciting moments, the important events, and the everyday laughter are all captured in this book so that you may one day look back and remember these special times at The Study. When people ask me what is so special about our school, my answer is always the same - it's the amazing people! Each of you with your unique strengths and characters, make this school a wonderful place to learn and grow together. To our graduates, it is bittersweet to see you go. You are caring, creative, passionate, clever and optimistic- hold onto those beautiful qualities. I have no doubt that you will move on in your journeys and do amazing things, and I sincerely hope you will come back to share your stories with us. A world of possibilities awaits you - go out and grab them!

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL DIRECTOR

Kim McInnes

Congratulations to all students on a wonderful 2016-2017 school year. As you look through this yearbook in years to come, you will see that your days were filled with so many activities and opportunities to learn and to challenge yourselves. As you continue to grow, I am sure that you will look back on these days with fondness.

Je vous souhaite un été rempli de joie et de soleil, et j'ai hâte de revoir celles d'entre vous qui reviendront en automne. Que vous entriez à l'école secondaire ou que vous finissiez comme membre de la classe de 2017, je sais que vous êtes bien préparées à faire face aux défis qui vous attendent et j'espère que votre avenir sera débordant de bonheur.

Bonne chance!

Yearbook

Editor's note

Working on the yearbook has been such a fun experience! This year was full of amazing and exciting events, and I was so lucky to have the opportunity to document it all.

Thanks to our advisor, Ms. Papini, without whom this book would not be a possibility, and to Ms. Edwards for overseeing the completion of the book.

Thanks to Layla and Emma for being such amazing co-editors! I couldn't have done this without you guys!

Student Council

HEAD GIRL Alexandra Kouri

There are no words to express how lucky I feel to have been Head Girl of our graduating class. This position has taught me so much about leadership, confidence and especially teamwork. Although it was tough at times, the overall experience was invaluable. I could not have asked for a better Student Council to work with in my last year at The Study. I can't imagine how boring my Monday's would have been if it were not for this incredible group of girls, and of course, Ms. Bosnakyan! To The Study's Student Council of 2017-2018: good luck, and have fun!

SUB-HEAD GIRL

Morgane Dackiw

Student Council has been brief. With everything going on, all the breaks, PED days, activities, school revisits, sick days, I feel like we never got a chance to breathe. However, this is a good feeling. We do things, we make a difference, and it's up to us how to do them. Being on Student Council is an honour. I never thought in my twelve years at The Study that I would ever be in the Student Council. I was way too shy in front of crowds, and I thought you had to be funny and spontaneous to have such a role, but I still am not. I only realized right before the elections that I was going to run, and that was only because people were suggesting that I should. So I did, and I was awarded the Sub-Head Girl position which made me so happy, I cannot express it. The position isn't what made me happy, just the idea that a group of my friends and I could work together and be a team to represent our school was amazing. For any of you reading this who are thinking of running, you should. It's better to try and see the outcome, then never try. What I learned at The Study is that you need to get out of your comfort zone to learn. Every day, you should do something that scares you, not something dumb, but something that you never thought you could do.

SPORTS CAPTAIN

Zoe Wong

Wow, this year has really flown by. I can still remember the butterflies in my stomach before delivering my speech in front of the entire school. Writing my Sports Captain speech was the one of the most natural things that I have ever done and will probably ever do. Throughout my high school years, sports have always occupied an irreplaceable spot in my life, from the sports itself to bonding with my teammates. It was what I looked forward to every day after school. Being on Student Council was undoubtedly one of the most rewarding and unforgettable experiences. It was the perfect ending to my 12 years at The Study. I had an amazing time with you girls, and I am so proud of all that we have accomplished! Thank you Ms. Bosnakyan and the rest of Student Council for always keeping our Monday meetings entertaining (to say the least...). Thank you Ms. Lewis for guiding and supporting me throughout the year. I am honoured to have been your Sports Captain, and I wish the best of luck to Michelle, next year's Sports Captain and Student Council. You'll do an amazing job!

TREASURER

Isabella Mignacca

Being on Student Council has definitely got to be one of the highlights of my high school career. In grade 7 I didn't even think I would be a part of Student Council, but I am so happy that it turned out differently. The other girls on Student Council and I have shared many laughs and memories on our weekly Monday meetings that I will forever cherish. I am so lucky to have had them by my side and to have them as a strong support system. I wish them all the best of luck next year and in their future endeavours. Thank you Ms. Bosnakyian for always trying to keep us on task because you know how off-track we can get. To next year's Student Council, cherish all the moments you have together, it goes by way too fast!

SECRETARY

Marie Kametani

I still remember the first day of school where we dressed up in our bathing suits as The Study's synchronizing swim team in front of the whole school. This year has been such an adventure for all of us and I cannot believe that it's coming to an end soon. I am so proud of everything that we have done together, and I am going to miss the memories we cherished during our weekly Monday lunches. We have accomplished so much even with our occasional procrastination. It was such an honour to be part of such an amazing Student Council, and I am going to miss you girls so much. Special thanks to Ms. Bosnakyian for providing us with an awesome time and guidance.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL PREFECT

Alexandra Brisebois

Euphoria is described as the state or feeling of intense excitement and happiness. That is most likely the best word to describe my experience as a member of the Student Council. It was never a dull moment with this group of girls. I am extremely thankful for my experience as Elementary Prefect. All that I have learned thanks to this position will follow me for my future endeavours. Alex, Mo, Zoe, Shilloh, Marie and Isa, I cannot thank you enough for the countless laughter-filled meetings we have experienced together. I could not have asked for a better group of girls to work with. Thank you for making my last year one I will never forget.

ENTERTAINMENT PREFECT Shilloh Brathwaite

COMMITTEE HEADS

COMMUNITY SERVICE HEAD

Gabriela Carrara

Jesus once said "For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light". We all have the capacity in us to help others and do good, and you'll come to find that when you make it a priority in your life to do so, it comes easy. Thank you to everyone who lead their lives with that mentality this year, and I hope that you all continue to do so next year.

ALUMNAE PREFECT Lindsay Mazliach

Being Alumnae Prefect has been a wonderful experience. I have really enjoyed attending the SOGA meetings and being able to provide another point of view while planning events and discussing subjects. It was a real honour to be able to represent the current student voice. I wanted to take this opportunity to thank Ms. Edwards and the SOGA members for allowing me to participate in their meetings and for making me feel nothing but comfortable and welcome. Thank you for showing me what it really takes to organize events, and for giving me the chance to contribute, to grow and to learn.

ART HEADS

Josephine Hugé & Misha Simon-Novy

I was really grateful to be Co-Head of the Arts this year alongside Misha. It made me realize how talented the girls are and how important art is for the mind whether it is writing, painting, acting, playing music, dancing... It can help a lot with the stress of school and should always be a part of our lives to stay inspired and balanced. I wish the next heads the best, I trust they will do an amazing job!

TUCK HEAD

Maya Bedjaoui

Being Tuck head was a fun and enjoyable position from which I learned how to manage inventories and monitor sales. I also had the chance to show creativity by putting into place a credit system. It was a great experience. I want to thank my grade for their help. It was truly a team effort getting all of the stock into the school and keeping up with the "customer" line. It was a pleasure spending recesses and lunches doing so. I wish the best of luck to next year's Tuck Head.

BAZAAR COMMITTEE

Layla Razek & Maya Bedjaoui

Bazaar is an amazing Study tradition that we were honoured to be chosen to organize alongside our Bazaar Committee members, our supervisor Mme. Briand, the members of SOGA as well as Study parents, students, teachers and staff. Working together we came to realize how much work goes into such an amazing event - from choosing our charities, themes and sponsors to making sure every grade's individual events would be ready for the day of the event. Throughout this process we also understood how grateful we should be for the help of the Study Community and want to thank the Bazaar Committee, the teachers, the staff, students and sponsors for their contributions to this event and who helped raise money for our two chosen charities: Les Amis de la Montagne and Oxfam Quebec. It was a lot of fun and we wish the best to the committee in 2017-2018!

GIRLS FOR THE CURE COMMITTEE

Bonnie Luk

Being Girls For The Cure Head has really taught me the importance of spreading love. It is important to spread love and not hatred in this world. I hope that we can continue doing more positive events like GFTC and continue empowering other women through these events!

Members: Josephine Huge, Olivia Archambault and Marie Kametani.

GRAD COMMITTEE

Lisa Melatti

Being Grad head has been nothing shy from amazing! It has allowed me to take initiative and work at my planning skills. This position has brought me so much joy knowing all my hard work is going to the wonderful girls I am lucky to not only call my classmates, but my sisters.

Members: Alex Brisebois, Alex Kouri, Michaela Simon-Novy, Tatiana Ferst, Shilloh Brathwaite, Layla Razek, Emma Dubroca.

LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Emma Hason & Julia Johnson

Being co-chairs of the Leadership Conference Committee has not only taught us some great leadership skills, but has also allowed us to work alongside so many inspiring people. Every year, The Study hosts their successful All Girls Leadership Conference, and we were so lucky to have the opportunity to lead the committee! Thank you to Mme Bousser for all her help and time dedicated to staying late after school painting posters, printing pamphlets hanging signs, creating workshops and making sure that the conference is an amazing experience! And a HUGE thanks to the conference committee!! You guys are the best team in the whole world! Good luck to next year's cochairs!

Class of 2017

Olivia Archambault

As my years at The Study come to an end, it seems like just yesterday, I entered the school as a shy little girl. I remember being scared that I might not make friends, that I might not do well and that I might not fit in. This year, I am leaving the school with not only friends but with sisters. The bond between Study girls is unlike any other and should last a lifetime. I leave The Study as a clever, intelligent and strong woman. I am truly honored to have shared my high school experience with such amazing peers and extraordinary teachers. I am a little intimidated to leave but I also know that I am well equipped with qualities and tools to continue my academic journey. To the class of 2017, we came here as scared little girls but we leave as the great women the world needs.

Maya Bedjaoui

I can't believe that my time at The Study is over. I'm going to miss my second home. I'm so thankful for everything that I have learned, the several opportunities that have been offered by the school and the many friendships that I have made. I want to thank my teachers for teaching us so much, for supporting us and for motivating us to do our best throughout the years. The Study is a part of me and I will always cherish the good memories that I have made there.

It's time for my classmates and me to start a new chapter in our lives. I wish them all the best and can't wait to see what the future holds.

Shilloh Brathwaite

"Anything's possible if you've got enough nerve." - J.K Rowling

Alexandra Brisebois

If you ask any Study graduate what their advice for the future grade elevens, they will tell you to cherish your last year at The Study because it will go by extremely fast. Boy were they right. This year has gone by so fast and before we know it we will be in our caps and gowns in the Study gym for the last time. I am forever grateful for my Study family. We have grown up alongside each other, each of us becoming different and unique individuals. I am extremely thankful for all the memories I have made with every one of my classmates throughout my ten years at The Study. From our yearly soccer trips to helping each other cram for a test next period in the locker room, I have learned crucial life lessons alongside these girls and I cannot wait to see what the future holds for us. Thank you for an amazing ten years' girls, I am going to miss you all so much.

Gabriela Carrara

"I saw my life branching out before me like the green fig tree in the story. From the tip of every branch, like a fat purple fig, a wonderful future beckoned and winked." - Sylvia Plath, The Bell Jar.

After 12 years, I can honestly say that The Study has been a very fruitful branch in my life, having brought me to so many a-ha moments that far surpass the doorways of any classroom. For those, and so many other blessings, I am forever grateful.

Morgane Marie Dackiw

The Study is not for everybody. But, it was for me. It was the perfect place for me to grow, imagine, dream and laugh for twelve years of my life. It still hasn't hit me that I am leaving this second home, but I know that I am always welcome back. "Once a study girl, always a study girl." It is a weird feeling to be writing this blurb because I still think of myself as a twelve-year-old girl, not knowing who I am or where I fit in. I don't see an adult in the mirror just yet, but I do see someone strong, independent and driven. That's what The Study does to someone. I've spent so much time and energy participating in everything that the school does, we all have. We have spent more time at school than anywhere else. I want to thank all the amazing teachers who have guided us along the way and who accepted our mistakes and our ups-and-downs

Emma Dubroca

It will soon feel strange to wake up in the morning and not have to put on my school uniform and then drive to school to greet Carlos, my friends and teachers. I believe my experience at The Study is definitely something I will cherish forever. The Study made every day feel different. Perhaps it was the teachers who always went the beyond the curriculum to teach us something important that would matter in the present and in the future. Perhaps it was the special moments I spent with my friends laughing or smiling simply because we enjoyed one another's company. Perhaps it was Carlos who reminded us every day of the importance of kindness and compassion. While every day at The Study was unique, the lessons we have learned will transcend time. The Study, along with our families and friends, have forged the very essence of our person. As I get ready to start a new chapter, I know for certain that The Study will always be a second home.

Tatiana Ferst

It's hard to believe that my five years here are coming to an end. I had no idea that my grade would turn into my family when I first started at The Study. Summarizing these past years into one paragraph is impossible. I have made so many memories and friendships that will never be forgotten. It's bittersweet that high school is coming to an end but The Study has prepared me for anything that could possibly come my way. Thank you to all my teachers and a big thank you to the 23 most amazing girls that made my time here one of the best experiences of my life. I love you all. Can't believe we're graduating!! xoxo

Emma Beatrice Hason

We made it guys!!

What a ride it's been! From kindergarten with Ms. Kasier and Mme. Line, singing about belugas and learning about the ocean, to planning revolts and raving underneath disco lights in the grade eleven locker room. We've laughed together, cried together, but most importantly, we've grown together. We came into The Study as young girls with big eyes and a lot to learn, and here we are, years later, grown women, with knowledge, friendships and memories that will last us a lifetime. I look at the Class of 2017 and I can honestly say, I am so proud of who we have become! I look at you all and I see women who are literally going to change the world. Let's keep celebrating each other!

Joséphine Hugé

I used to hear that getting out of my comfort zone would be the most rewarding experience of my life and my closed mind would think nonsense. I just didn't see how it could be possible until the day we moved to Canada. At the end of my 3 years at The Study, I can testify that it is definitely true. In 2014, I walked through those doors with the mindset that I didn't need new friends, or this school. The only thing that I wanted was these next few years to go by quickly so I could go back to Paris. I was naïvely thinking that the world there would wait for me and that I wouldn't get attached to these girls and this place. Everything happened in the blink of an eye and I don't know what to say, only where to start: I was wrong. I feel so lucky that I got to learn surrounded by determined, ambitious, feminist, positive, loving, encouraging, crazy girls, who taught me English (can be useful), the meaning of hard work and friendship and how women can change the world

Elisabeth Jacob

From the Teddy Bear Breakfast, to many band trips and the Nicaragua trip, to the time I've spent with my classmates through ups and downs, I can definitely say that my time at this school has been a wild ride. After spending 12 years at The Study, I've come to realize how valuable my experiences here have been, along with the impact my teachers and other members of the staff have had on me. I'd like to thank my family who has been extremely supportive during these 12 years and I'm grateful for everything they've done to help me get here. To the Grads of 2017, even though we're all following different paths next year, the memories we've shared together are some that I will cherish for a very long time. Good luck everyone!

Julia Margaret Johnson

It's ironic that when I was in kindergarten I would have done anything to wear the blue shirts and sit on those benches, but when I got there, I really wanted naptime. It seems all too fast that my 12 years at The Study are coming to an end. From locker room dances to vegan debates, I'll miss every part of it. I learned many things at The Study like: understanding that your calculator will get to the bottom of the stairs before you, it's everyone for themselves when it comes to getting a dessert at lunch and that punctuality isn't my strong suit. I want to thank my family for being so supportive, my wonderful teachers, and the fabulous class of 2017! I am excited to start this new chapter in my life but mostly, that I won't be asked "do you Study at The Study" any more. I wish you all the best in your future endeavours and hope that wherever life leads you that you're happy!

Marie Kametani

After all the "Marie, stop nagging!" and the "No, you may not write your French essay in English.", my three years here flew by so quickly. The Study has offered me many opportunities and I don't think I can ever thank my teachers enough for not only dedicating their time to teach but also for being supportive and caring even outside of the classroom. People say high school is the worse part of our lives, but with my amazing friends by my side, it turned out to be one of my best experiences.

P.S Stay golden B...

Alexandra Kouri

I could do the math and tell you how many hours I have been here over the last 12 years, but I won't. Basically, I have been at The Study a very long time. Am I excited to leave? A little, but I am mostly terrified. Am I excited that no one will ever again ask me "do you Study at the Study?" Yes. The girls I have met here are more than just classmates, they are my sisters. I know it sounds tacky, but I genuinely feel like these girls are my family. I am forever grateful that I got to spend so many years with these incredible ladies. To the graduating class of 2017: thank you for these amazing years, I love you all. To all Study girls, I leave you with a quote from my Idol:

"Man... ninjas are kind of cool... I just don't know any personally." – Kanye West

Deschanel Li

"We dance for laughter,
we dance for tears,
we dance for madness,
we dance for fears,
we dance for hopes,
we dance for screams,
we are the dancers,
we create the dreams."

- Albert Einstein

Bonnie Luk

Having spent 12 years of my life at The Study, I am incredibly grateful for all my classmates and for all the amazing teachers at this school. The Study has taught me to how work hard, how to know what I want and to be assertive, as well as find out what I am truly interested in studying. The Study has also given me 22 amazing sisters that I am eternally grateful to have met. I know that these girls will always have my back and that I can trust them with anything. Thank you girls for tolerating my weirdness and for loving me for who I am, and thank you to all the teachers for being amazing at what you teach and for being so passionate about what you teach. Through all the tears, laughter, and stressful situations that we have endured, I wish my second family a successful journey in their pursuits. I will miss you all!

Lindsay Mazliach

I have gone through so many changes in the last five years. I moved. I've changed my hair at least six times. I've gone through multiple fashion phases. I went from meat eater to vegan, from being quiet and shy to learning how to stand my ground and be vocal. I used to be so hard on myself for every little mistake, but now I've learned to use every experience to build me up. The list goes on and on, but the one thing that remained a stable pillar in my life was, The Study.

Thank you to The Study for giving me the space and opportunity to grow into the person I am slowly becoming. Thank you for standing by me through thick and thin, for encouraging me and for celebrating my accomplishments. I am eternally grateful for all that you have exposed me to, all that you have provided me with. You will always have a special place in my heart.

Lisa-Marie Melatti

I never thought I'd walk away with so much joy yet so much pain. I never realized how hard it would be to say goodbye to the place I called a second home and to girls I called my sisters. But yesterday's gone, we have to keep moving on. I am so grateful for The Study and all the people here I am proud to call my family. I might be moving on but I'll hold this place in my heart forever.

Isabella Mignacca

We were asked to summarize our high school experience in 100-150 words. Usually, this would be an easy thing to do but how can I describe the relationships and memories I have created at The Study in so few words. I think I've been trying to push off writing this ("If tomorrow isn't the due date than today isn't the do date." Right?) because it's finally starting to hit me that next year I'm not going to have these 22 other girls on my side. I owe them all for all the amazing memories I have had at The Study and specifically to the other girls on Student Council. To my fellow graduates, I know you will all be doing amazing things in the future and I can't wait to see what you all accomplish.

PS. "Life's what you make it so let's make it rock" -Hannah Montana (to the Grads of '17)

Layla Razeq

It's easy to forget how many memories I've made within the halls of The Study. Re-visiting the elementary school every once in a while I would remember grammar lessons with Mme. Proulx, recess spent indoors with Ms. Lewis and fascinating stories told over lunch with good friends. Those good friends have stood by my side all these 12 years, as well as those who came to The Study later on, and have helped me grow both academically and as a person - challenging me to heights I might never have accomplished by myself. Being surrounded by so many talented and determined people has certainly had an influence on me, and I can never thank The Study enough for providing us with an environment which would foster a competitive yet encouraging environment. Undoubtedly I will remain forever grateful for my years spent at The Study and the words of advice from teachers and friends I have recieved within this school. Best of luck to the class of 2017!

Lauren Santoro

"Don't let the noise of other's opinions drown out your own inner voice. And most important, have the courage to follow your heart and intuition. They somehow already know what you truly want to become. Everything else is secondary." - Steve Jobs

Michaela Simon-Novy

Twelve years at The Study and it still seems like it hasn't been enough time. I have definitely had some ups and down at this school, but it has only pushed me to work harder in order to achieve my accomplishments. I really wanted to thank the school for flourishing my passion in art, allowing me to make an amazing group of friends (the entire grade), creating memories that I will hold with me for the rest of my life and basically being my second home. This is something that I will forever miss, the tight little community that we have with all the students, teachers, staff and faculty. It is sad to think that my entire grade will never be together like this again, but I know I will always be able to count on this group of wonderful women as we've been through it all; from the heartbreaks, failed tests and arguments. I know High School is only once but I would do it all again in a heartbeat. Special thanks to Ms. Liogas for being the best ITM teacher ever!

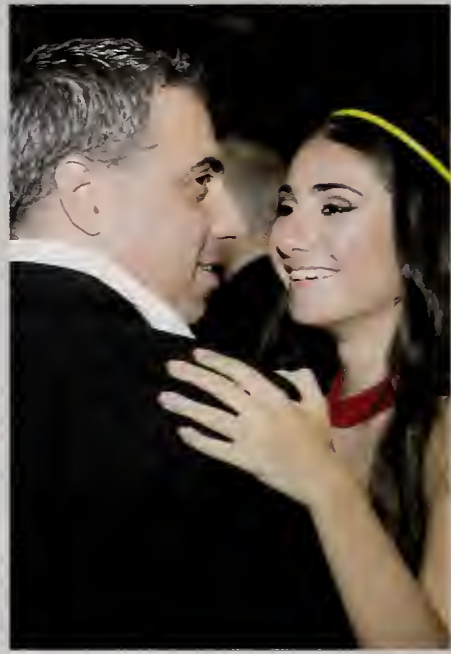

Zoe Wong

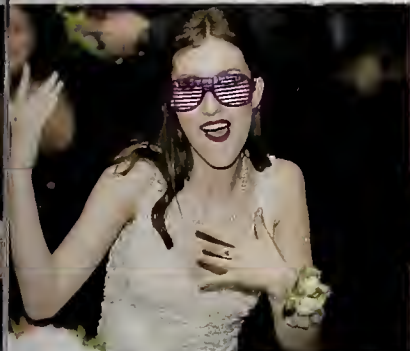

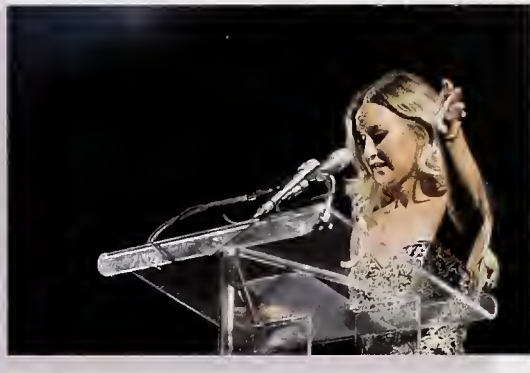

Time flies. What seems like yesterday, I was a kindergartener wishing naptime would end. Now, I'm graduating and wondering why I never took advantage of those precious sleeping minutes. If I could go back and tell myself one thing, it would be to cherish each and every moment I've spent with my friends or more like my sisters, because it's over before I know it. Over the years, I've created amazing memories with an incredible group of girls. The Study has not only been a school, but a place where I felt comfortable being myself and knowing myself better. I want to thank my family, teachers, coaches and friends for always being there for me. Congrats to the class of 2017! I wish you all the best of luck!

The GSA, or Gay-Straight Alliance, is a safe space that promotes an open dialogue between all students and their teachers. They are free to discuss all sorts of topics and interests, with a focus on inclusion and support. This year was the first year that The Study held GSA meetings, and it is safe to say that they were a success!
